PANORAMIC VIEW OF SARANAC LAKE VILLAGE.

LAKE PLACID SPEED BOATS MADE READY

Adirondack Visitors Arriving at Their Camps and Cottages.

Lake Placid, N. Y., July 1.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt is to be invited to speak at the dedication of a bronze memorial tablet to be affixed to the great boulder at the grave of John Brown on the John Brown farm, two miles south-east of this village. The dedication will take place in August. The day will be known as John Brown day and R. R. Brewster, who has the arrangements in charge, hopes also to be able to secure as speakers Frank B. Sanborn of Concord, Mass., author of the "Life and Letters of John Brown," and John D. Milholland, who is to spend the summer at Meadowmount, his 1,000 acre ranch outside of Elizabethtown.

The inscription on the tablet will contain the names of the men with Brown in the attack at Harper's Ferry, and it will also serve as a memorial to the twelve who are buried with him here. These are his sons, Watson and Oliver Brown of Lake Placid, William and Dauphin Osgood Thompson of Lake Placid, H. H. Kast, Adjutant, Albert Haslett, Lieutenant; Jeremiah G. Anderson, Lieutenant; Lewis S. Lerry, Dangefeld, Newby and Stewart Taylor, negroes all of whom were killed in the fight at Harper's Ferry and Aaron D. Stevens, Captain, and William H. Leeman, Lieutenant, who were captured and hanged March 16, 1860.

The speed boats of members of the Lake Placid Yacht Club are being overhauled in preparation for the racing season. The Wangundin and the Theanagon, belonging to William L. Supplee have been equipped with more powerful engines and similar changes have been made in the Cinderella II, owned by C. Barnesen, and the Howwarken, owned by Harry T. Hull, vice-commander of the yacht club. New boats have been placed in commission this season. Oscar Cone and W. H. Derbyshire,

George J. Jackson of New York, who has leased Overbrook cottage at Whiteface Inn for the season, has placed in commission a new speed boat that has names of other speedsters worn off covering its capabilities.
